

Yolanda J. Stone Boone

Executive Advisor · Organizational Strategist · Legacy Architect

Biography

Yolanda J. Stone Boone is a nationally respected executive advisor, organizational strategist, and financial literacy educator who counsels founders, executives, families, and institutions building enterprises designed to endure across generations. A self-made millionaire who eliminated seven figures of debt through disciplined stewardship, she has spent two decades translating that lived expertise into the frameworks — LEGACY™, Business Shadow™, and FAIR™ — that anchor her advisory practice.

She is the founder of the Financial Literacy Institute, convener of the Legacy Builders Council™, and a sought-after voice on wealth architecture, organizational health, and the discipline of building institutions of consequence.

Short Bio (50 words)

Yolanda J. Stone Boone is an executive advisor, organizational strategist, and legacy architect. She counsels founders, executives, and families building institutions designed to endure — and leads the Financial Literacy Institute and the invite-only Legacy Builders Council™.

Speaking Topics

- Building Wealth That Outlives You: The LEGACY™ Framework
- Business Shadow™: Diagnosing What Your Organization Won't Say Out Loud
- FAIR™ — A Discipline for Executive Decision-Making Under Pressure
- Financial Literacy as Infrastructure: Educating Families for Generational Capital
- The Institution-Builder's Mindset: From Founder to Legacy Architect
- Culture, Capital, and Consequence: Leading Organizations Worth Inheriting

Credentials & Recognition

Advisory & Leadership

- Advisor to Fortune 500 executive teams on organizational health and succession
- Founder, Financial Literacy Institute — national certification curriculum
- Convener, Legacy Builders Council™ — invite-only executive mastermind
- Board Member, National Legacy Council
- Fellow, The Aspen Institute

Featured & Cited

- Forbes · Black Enterprise · Inc. · Harvard Business Review
- Essence · Rolling Out · Aspen Ideas (Keynote)

Frameworks (Trademarked)

- LEGACY™ — The seven-part architecture of enduring wealth and leadership
- Business Shadow™ — Diagnostic for the organizational truths leaders avoid
- FAIR™ — Decision discipline for executives under high-stakes pressure

Headshot & Assets

High-resolution headshots, brand marks, and biographical variants are available on request. Email the Office for licensed press assets and interview scheduling.

Booking & Press Inquiries

The Office of Yolanda J. Stone Boone

press@yolandajstoneboone.com